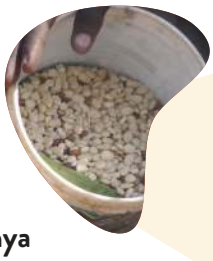
Drought in Turkana

TRIBE Kids

WORLDWIDE ACTION BRIEF

Who Needs Our Help?

Nearly 200,000 people in Kenya and their flocks are in need of water and basic food supplies. It didn't rain enough to give them the water they need.



What is Bright Hope Doing?

Through local churches we are helping to distribute basic food needs like flour, oil, beans, and salt. As little as $5.50 can feed one person for three days.

Learn More...

Turkana is a dry region in northern Kenya in Africa. The people in Turkana survive off their flocks of cattle, donkeys, camels, and goats. They are a very traditional culture, and love to wear bright colored clothes and beads!
